Social: Providing Time for Fun Interaction (Small Groups, 15 minutes)

Welcome kids and spend time engaging in conversation and catching up. Get ready to experience today's Bible Truth.

Before kids arrive, spend some time praying in preparation for their arrival. Ask God to give you wisdom as you start this new series on respect, a topic that all kids struggle with at times (some more than others!). Pray that they would leave your group with a deeper understanding of why it's important to respect God.

Pin the Respect on the Parent

Made to Play: an activity that encourages learning through following guidelines and working as a group

What You Need: "Parent Picture" Activity Page, wall tape, "RESPECT" sticky notes, blindfolds

What You Do:

- Tape the "Parent Picture" (male or female) to the wall so it's at the kids' eye level.
- Give each kid a sticky note with "RESPECT" written on it.
- Explain that they'll be playing "Pin the Respect on the Parent," which is similar to "Pin the Tail on the Donkey." Their goal is to get the sticky note on the parent's shirt.
- Blindfold a kid, stand him about five feet from the picture on the wall, spin him around three times, and then let him walk to the wall and stick his note on it.
- Let each child have a turn.

What You Say:

"It was kind of hard to get that 'RESPECT' note right on the parent's shirt, wasn't it? That's kind of like how it's sometimes hard to respect our parents. [Transition] Let's go to Large Group, where we'll hear more about respecting our parents."

Lead your group to the Large Group area.

Opener

HOST: "Hey, everyone. I'm really pumped for another week in The Treehouse, and I hope you are too! We've been having so much fun this month learning how to Respect the Rhythm. Does anyone remember what it means to respect someone? (Pause to see if they remember.)

CG: Respect Slide

"Respect is showing others they are important by what you say and do. That's right! And, right now, I want you to show the Power Praise team some great respect. Let's get them up here and give them a great, loud welcome."

Power Praise team enters as Host joins the audience.

Worship

POWER PRAISE: "I can't wait for us to sing together this morning, so stand to your feet, everybody. Let's get loud together and make God's praises heard throughout this place. Let me hear you say this after me: 'At the top of my lungs I'll sing. (Pause.) With all of my heart (pause) I will praise You. (Pause.) God, You are everything. (Pause.) You're the reason that I lift my voice.' (Pause.) Okay, let's hold nothing back and sing this song of praise at the top of our lungs. Here we go!"

SFX: "At the Top of My Lungs" / track 1 from At the Top of My Lungs

"Yeah, give a shout for God! (Pause for response.) YES! Actually, every day is a good day to sing and give praise to God. Let's rock and jam out together as we give praise to God for all the amazing things He is doing in our lives. C'mon, and let's sing!"

SFX: "Movin' Me"

"Yeah! You guys are awesome. We have one more song. So, use this song to just listen to God and to pray to Him. He love to hear your voices, all of the time!"

SFX: "Forever Reign"

"Way to go everyone! We will see you all next week!"

Power Praise team exits as Host retakes the stage.

HOST: "Way to show those guys respect! Let's look at one of the things the Bible has to say about respect.

CG: Memory Verse Slide

"This is our memory verse for the month: Show proper respect to everyone (1 Peter 2:17a NIV).

"And for the last couple of weeks, we've seen how tricky it can be to show respect to everyone, huh? But we have risen to the occasion and have been respecting the rhythm. If you've ever tried to practice your rhythm at home, you know it doesn't usually go over really well with your big sister who's talking on the phone, or your dad who's trying to catch a Sunday afternoon nap. What can you do when the rhythm's calling you?

Hold up a pillow.

"Pillow drums! I know it sounds so strange, but this is a great—and silent—way to practice. You'll see what I mean.

Take out one of the pillows and a set of "drumsticks" and play your drum pillow for 10-15 seconds.

"See? It's super fun and super quiet. All this pillow drumming gives me an idea. I have three pillows and three sets of drumsticks. I just need three kids to help me out for an epic pillow drum battle!"

Choose three kids and bring them up to the stage. Introduce each kid to the group and give each a pillow and set of drumsticks. The kids can spread out across the stage.

"Here's how this will work. I'll play a song, and the first contestant in the drum battle will give it everything they've got to create a rockin' rhythm that will be sure to get the crowd pumped! Then we'll give each of the other contestants a shot at their own rhythm. The rest of you will cheer for your favorite to discover the drum battle champion! Got it? Any questions? Let's go!"

SFX: "At the Top of My Lungs"

Give each kid about 30 seconds to really get into their drum solo. When they are all finished, have kids cheer for their favorite, but declare everyone a winner.

"That WAS an epic pillow drum battle! But all the cheers are just too close. I can't declare a winner. You've all respected the rhythm. So all three of you can go back to your groups a champion! Let's give them another round of applause as they head to their seats."

Host exits as Historyteller enters.

SETTING UP THE BIBLE TRUTH

HISTORYTELLER: "Hey guys! All month we've been talking about the different people we should respect: God and other people in our lives. And today we're focusing on respecting people who you could probably say that you know best. That's right, it's your parents! Check out today's video."

CG: 252 Story

WRAPPING UP THE BIBLE TRUTH

HISTORYTELLER: "When it comes to respecting your parents, here's what you need to remember."

CG: Bottom Line Slide

[Bottom Line] You respect God when you respect your parents. It's true! When you show respect to your parents, you're actually showing God that you understand that He's put them in charge of you for a reason.

"Remember what Paul said in his letter: Obey them because it's the right thing to do (Ephesians 6:1 NIV). We can forget to do that because we get stuck in bad habits of everyday life. But God has a much better way. We know deep down how important our parents are to us; we just need to ask God to help us SHOW it. When we do, we will live out our memory verse in a big way. Read it with me."

CG: Memory Verse Slide

'Show proper respect to everyone.' 1 Peter 2:17a, NIV.'

"Let's pray right now and ask for God's help in respecting everyone, especially our parents."

Pray

HISTORYTELLER: "God, thank You SO much for our parents. In this room, we have a lot of different kinds of families. But we know that no matter what, You've put us in our families for a reason. We know You've put our parents in charge of us for a reason. Please help us to show respect to them and to show them how important they are to us by the way we speak and act every single day. We know we need Your help to do it. We love You and we ask these things in Jesus' name, amen."

"Hey, if you have an offering today, raise your hand and we'll bring the offering bucket over to you."

Historyteller exits as Host enters.

Closer

HOST: “Hey, everyone! What a great reminder from God’s Word! Okay, so you might already know this, but (lean in; stage whisper) parents aren’t perfect. Parents aren’t always right. Parents—just like you and me—sometimes make mistakes.

“Yet the Bible says you’re supposed to obey and honor your parents. To put it another way, you’re supposed to respect your parents and show them they’re important by what you say and do.

“That means when they tell you to finish picking up your toys before you go outside to play, you don’t roll your eyes and stomp your feet. It means you do your homework without being nagged. It means when they ask you to eat your broccoli, you don’t whine about not being hungry. You at least try to eat your vegetables.

“And you do these things because you want your parents to know that you see how hard their job is and that you are so thankful for all they do for you. And on top of that, you’ll be doing what God wants, and that’s ALWAYS a good thing. The one thing to remember today is, drum roll, please . . .

CG: Bottom Line Slide

[Bottom Line] “You respect God when you respect your parents. Say that with me.”

HOST and KIDS: [Bottom Line] “You respect God when you respect your parents.”

HOST: “We’ve already discovered a lot of ways we can respect our parents today, and we also learned we can respect their need for peace by respecting the rhythm (stage whisper) very quietly, just like we can do right now on our way to Small Group. Have fun with your groups, and we’ll see you next week!”

Dismiss children to their Prayer Groups.

CG: Prayer Group Slide

Pray and Dismiss (10 minutes)

What You Need: No supplies needed

What You Do:

- Guide kids to each say a sentence prayer asking God to help them show respect to their parents.
- If kids are shy or unsure, they can literally each say, "God, please help me show respect to _____," and then fill in the blank with "parents" or whomever they live with on a regular basis.

What You Say:

"God, thank You for giving us people who love us and take care of us. Help us to always treat them with respect. We know that's not always easy, but You can help us do anything! In Jesus' name, amen."

As adults arrive to pick up, ask kids to tell their parents who's in charge of all things.
